Empire Investigations LLC Lights Up the Night Sky at the 4th Annual Pittsburgh Bond Soiree

Event Benefits the National Kidney Foundation — Seen by Over 18 Million People Worldwide

PITTSBURGH, PA — OCTOBER 9, 2015

On Friday, October 9th, 2015, the 4th Annual James Bond Soiree transformed Pittsburgh's iconic Market Square into a glamorous evening of celebration, philanthropy, and cutting-edge technology. Celebrities, public figures, and the general public filled Perlè from wall to wall for an unforgettable night made possible through the combined efforts of Kent Schmor of Kent Schmor Champagne Parties, Robert Kresson of Empire Investigations LLC, and Brennan Hart of the National Kidney Foundation.

Empire Investigations LLC deployed their drone technology above Market Square, illuminating the downtown Pittsburgh skyline with a glimmering aerial display visible from hundreds of feet in the air — technology once thought to exist only in James Bond films. The stunning aerial footage provided a unique perspective of the event that wowed attendees and generated international media coverage reaching over 18 million people across the globe.

Guests enjoyed a fashion show runway and a red carpet photoshoot featuring James Bond himself — the nation's premier Daniel Craig double. The event's excitement was matched only by its impact: all proceeds benefited the National Kidney Foundation, which advocates for individuals at all stages of kidney disease and funds critical prevention, treatment, and transplant research nationwide.

“At Empire Investigations, we bring James Bond to real life through our use of unparalleled equipment and technology, operating throughout the globe.”
